GOOD RESULT

From Shot in Oil Well Number 2.

No Longer Any Doubt About the New Well on Three Mile Being a Payer.

Just after the NEWS went to press with the last issue the oil well drilled in a few days before on Three Mile was shot with a heavy charge of nitro-glycerine. 120 quarts were used and the shot was a most satisfactory one to the owners of the well. The production of oil and gas was considerably increased, but the extent of it will not be known until after the well shall have been pumped for some time. The pumping outfit was delayed in shipment, but will be put to work as soon as possible.

Enough is known, however, to justify the statement that this well will be a paying producer and a better well than the first one. The quality of oil is the very best that comes from the Berea grit, and there is no better.

Well No. 1 is again being pumped and the results are reported to be up to the expectations of the owners.

The rig for well No. 3 is now practically completed and the machinery is on the ground. Drilling will begin at once, and it is expected that the well will be completed within thirty days unless unavoidable delays occur. This location is on the south end of Wm O'Brien's tract of land.

Well No. 4 will be started very soon by the Pennsylvania associates of Mr. A. C. Smith, who first came into the field.

Messrs. Strong, Hunter, Henderson, Atkinson, Woods and Vasbiner, of Brooksville, Pa., are here looking after the development. Also, Mr. Wilson, of Indiana, Penn., has been here for some time.

A considerable number of leases have changed hands within the past few weeks. Most of these transfers, however, have been on the west side of the Levisa fork of the river.

Painful Accident.

An accident which lacked but little of resulting fatally occurred at the Salt peter dam on Thursday last. Thomas Vincent, an employee, while at work was struck by a huge bucket of cement as it was swung by a derrick, and was violently thrown against one of the big pumps.

He was placed in a boat and brought to Louisa where he was attended to by Dr. Wrotten, the contract company's surgeon. The young man was carried to the home of Tom Wilson and was properly cared for until next day, when he was sent to his home on Mill Creek, four or five miles from Fort Gay. He suffered severely from pain and shock, but no bones were broken.

Teachers Money for Christmas.

We are informed by a Frankfort exchange that school teachers will receive their holiday money soon. The following will be read with interest by our county teachers:

"School teachers in Kentucky don't have their Christmas money and will have it if I can see to it always," said Capt. Ed Farley, State Treasurer. The salaries of teachers which is to be their Christmas money will be sent out this month in time for the teachers to spend it for Christmas presents. The money is not due until December 16th and at that time the teachers will find their checks honored by the State. To the county school teachers will be paid $816,000 and to the city school teachers $205,000."

Real Estate Transfers.

John Thompson has purchased from "Sand Branch" Jim Carter the house and lot adjoining the property of Dan Blankenship on the north. It is said the price paid was $850.

New Bridge to be Built.

Indications are that Kentucky, West Virginia and Ohio in the not distant future will be connected by a bridge which will span the Big Sandy and Ohio rivers, perhaps one hundred feet above the converging point of the two streams. Capitalists were in Catlettsburg this week "sizing up" the situation and viewing a probable location for such a structure, and one of them said that in all probability a bridge costing in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars would be built.

It is proposed to connect the three points with a bridge, one end on Kentucky soil, the other on the Buckeye shore, with a middle pier and approach resting on "Virginia Point," the sharp point of West Virginia that juts down between the two rivers. The gentleman speaking of the proposition stated that he knew where 51 per cent of the stock could be placed with non-resident capitalists and felt sure the remainder would be readily taken by local people.

Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars.

In his estimates sent to Congress Secretary MacVeagh asks for these appropriations for the next fiscal year: For completing improvement at dam No. 1, Tug fork, and dam No. 1, Levisa fork, Big Sandy river, $25,000.

It will be seen from this paragraph that the Government does not intend to spend much money on the Big Sandy and its forks this year. The completion of the work at Salt peter and Chapman means the discontinuance of the disbursements which so materially aided the laboring men of this section.

SUITS COMPROMISED.

Two Claims Settled by Contractors on Dam No. 1, Levisa Fork.

Two damage claims against James Skene & Sons for injuries received by men employed on their work at Chapman, this county, have been settled by compromise.

The larger claim, that of the administrator of John Sammons, was settled for $2000. It will be remembered that the man died as a result of a blow received while working with a pile driver.

The other claim was that of Wm Shannon, who sustained a broken leg while employed on the work. He receives $250 besides attorney fees.

The contracting firm was insured against damages and the losses are borne by the surety company.

"Ye Olden Time" Concert.

Miss Hattie Milton Jones gave an enjoyable entertainment, styled as above, at the court house on Monday evening. It consisted of vocal and instrumental music rendered by several well known amateurs from this city and Fort Gay, the various numbers being interspersed with recitations by Miss Jones.

Miss Jones is a talented lady, and her efforts to please the public deserve recognition and appreciation by the public.

The City Council.

Council met in regular session, the last for 1909, last Tuesday evening. All were present except Dr. Bromley. Besides the routine and the payment of various claims, including the salaries of city officers, not much was done. W. W. Millard was appointed deputy Marshal, and he is now on duty.

Twelve Days.

Only twelve more shopping days is the tale every counter goods displays by the bale. But they're being purchased fast by the throng, and will certainly not last very long. Only twelve more shopping days is the tale ere a lot of empty trays end the sale. Count them—only 12—no more intervene, ere the shopping rush is o'er. Don't be mean.

Brought Back the Guns.

The two pistols stolen from the Louisa Furniture Co. some time ago have been returned.

Must Have It Bad.

Golden White, at one time—"erstwhile"—editor of the Pikeville Herald, is, as will be seen from the following from the Ashland Independent, not only "erstwhile" but "migratory." Perhaps he couldn't help it, and it is hardly fair to throw it up to him. We don't exactly know where he has gone, but from the zoological terms used by his historian Golden has started for Africa. If he can't bag a whangdoodle all by himself, the late unlamented Big Stick might help him. Hear the Independent:

"Golden White, the erstwhile but migratory editor of the Pikeville Herald, is gone "where the lion roareth and the whangdoodle mourneth," and where the hog-back grunteth not; and while he leaves a few behind him who mourn his departure, we hope he may prosper in his new abode wherever that may be. We hope he may grow famous as a wielder of the quill, however, circumstances to the contrary notwithstanding, since his staff of writers are left behind. 'Tis to be hoped that some one will continue the publication of a town paper."

Took Chloroform and Died.

Mrs. John Workman died at her home in Ceredo, W. Va., Thursday morning after a long and lingering illness. She had been afflicted with insomnia and could not sleep, and on Thursday morning the doctors administered chloroform, from the effects of which she never recovered.

Mrs. Workman was a highly respected woman and has many relatives in Wayne county, who will regret to learn of her untimely death. She is survived by her husband and two sons. The funeral was held from the family residence in Ceredo, after which the remains were taken to Catlettsburg for interment.

The Rev. Dr. Williamson

The Rev. Dr. C. H. Williamson, Chester, Jr., Miss Caroline and Charles Williamson arrived at the home of R. T. Burns on Wednesday. All the family except Rowland are now here. He is taking a special course at Beloit College.

The NEWS is glad to announce that Dr. Williamson will preach at the Southern Methodist Church next Sunday morning. The ability of the preacher is too well known in this community to require notice from this paper. We will say for the benefit of those who have not heard Dr. Williamson that if they intend to hear him next Sunday a fine treat is awaiting them.

All From Big Sandy.

The State Board of Examiners of Mine Foremen has issued certificates to eight men, as the result of the examination held last week. The State law requires all mine foremen to have such certificates. The successful applicants were E. A. Bertrand, Mossy Bottom, Pike county; Fred V. Brown, Breathitt county; John J. Crawford, Frank Mosler and Ernest Layman, Johnson county; John Marshall and John B. Dain, Floyd county. One other certificate will be issued to John Hughett upon the filing of the proper affidavit. This makes a total of 393 licensed mine foremen in Kentucky.

The Daniels Have Surrendered.

On Monday morning of last week old man Charlie Daniels and Jim surrendered to deputy sheriff Sanders of Pike county, and were taken by him to Pikeville. Jim Daniels is in very bad condition owing to his wound, and it is not known whether he will survive or not.

The remainder of the Daniels boys for whom there were warrants in West Virginia, surrendered on the same day. Their trial was held Tuesday afternoon but nothing was proven.

Called Session of Fiscal Court.

The Lawrence County Fiscal Court will hold a special term beginning on Thursday, December 16, for the purpose of making a final settlement with Sheriff Stone. It will probably not be a very difficult matter. He has kept things in splendid shape.

NEARLY DONE

Are the Two New Dams in River Near Louisa.

Work at Salt peter and Chapman Will Soon be Finished and Ready For Use.

The dams at Salt peter and Chapman are rapidly nearing completion. Many of the laborers employed have been discharged, and in a few more days, if the present fine weather holds the work at both places will be ready for inspection and reception by the government. The contractors, the Ohio River Contract Co., at Salt peter, and James Skene & Sons, at Chapman, have had phenomenal weather during almost the entire season, and they have not been idle. Every hour that could possibly be employed was utilized.

The result is two magnificent dams, built according to the most approved plans and in the best possible manner. Uncle Sam does not tolerate inferior work, and the work done on Tug and Levisa forks, as well as that done on the main river, has been done honestly and well.

If the Chief of Engineers follows the course for the Big Sandy which he has indicated for the Kentucky river, it will perhaps be a long time before this river secures another appropriation. He says that after the completion of lock 13 on the Kentucky he will not advise the building of any further locks and dams on that stream. The main business of that stream is the transportation of logs, and perhaps he would say the same of the Big Sandy.

The completion of the dam at Chapman will cause this community to lose several very nice people. The dam was built by the contracting firm of James Skene & Sons, and these will go to other points. The NEWS is informed that Mr. and Mrs. Skene and daughter, Miss Ellen, will go to Chicago, probably next week, and will remain there some time. It is possible that they will move to Huntington. They are popular people and will be much missed in social circles.

It is said that Frank Skene will leave the firm at the close of the season. He and his family will go to St. Louis. Mr. A. I. Skene and family will spend the winter in New Orleans and Mexico. George Skene and wife, who was Miss Mellie Bromley, will probably winter here.

Painfully Hurt.

Charles Abbott and wife and her sister, Miss Emma Goble, who were recent visitors to Louisa relatives, have returned to Fayetteville, W. Va. While here Miss Emma sustained a painful and peculiar accident. She was roller skating in the yard of the Abbott residence and fell, the rings on one of her fingers catching in a nail. The finger was badly lacerated, and it required the aid of Mr. Morris, the jeweler at Conley's, to cut the rings from the hand.

Commercial Department, K. N. C.

Sherrid Spradlin has contracted with the Kentucky Normal College to take charge of the business courses. Bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting will be taught in this department. Mr. Spradlin is a competent teacher of several years experience. He was formerly a student at K. N. C. and is thoroughly interested in its success. He will come to Louisa in a short time and begin work.

Never No More.

John Wellman has returned from a trip to Texas. His opinion of the country is voiced in a few words: If they let me alone, I'll not go back. His friends wait to hear from one Bill Jim.

Huntington Handle Company.

There is one industry in the city of Louisa which, in a quiet, unpretentious sort of way, is doing much for our people. We refer to the handle mill. Six days in the week its cheerful whistle tells our citizens that six industrious men are in and about the mill, busy as the proverbial bee, earning and promptly receiving that which goes for the support of themselves and their families, and every dollar they earn is spent right here among us. Ten hours each day the high-speed saws transform the hickory "bolts" into different lengths and thicknesses. These are stacked neatly in piles in the yard, and when a car load or more of these is ready it is shipped to Huntington to the factory in that city. There these various pieces are turned into the completed handle. Pretty nearly every tool with an "eye" is provided for: hammers of every description, axes, picks, hatchets, sledges—how many sorts one not familiar with the business can not say.

The Louisa mill occupies the ground and part of the old stave factory, and is ably managed by J. K. Whitten. Mr. Whitten is a hustler and a skilled and experienced hickory man. What he doesn't know about wood for handles wouldn't fill a very large book. The wood used here is drawn from the adjacent territory, and as one sees the "bolts" hauled through the streets day after day one asks himself what will handle makers do when the present hickory supply is exhausted. The question probably does not much concern the manufacturers of today, but the time is not very remote when the problem will be a very serious one.

UNITED STATES COURT

Will Convene at Catlettsburg on Next Monday.

On next Monday morning the United States District Court for the Eastern district of Kentucky, will convene here and will be presided over by Judge Cochran. The term is likely to be a brief one, there being, however, some cases of considerable importance to be tried.

The case which will attract the most attention will be that of the government against C. C. Fannin, which is docketed for trial at an early date during the term. The defendant in the case is charged with having overcharged a couple of applicants for pension with excessive fees, while acting in the capacity of a notary public, in securing their pensions. It is further alleged by the government that he further aided in establishing a couple of claims that are alleged to be fraudulent.

One of these cases is said to be that of Nancy Flinley, in which the prosecution claims that Fannin furnished two affidavits which were afterwards found to be fraudulent. The affidavit indicated, it is said, that the first husband of the Flinley woman was dead, when it is asserted that the witnesses did not know that he was dead; it is not known whether he is dead or living, as it is said that he left for parts unknown some time ago.

Another accusation is that the defendant pretended to find a couple of witnesses to prove that the first husband of Mrs. Elizabeth Muncey was dead, when it is said that special examiner Wayne Cordell asserts that he succeeded in having the man, alleged to have died, in an asylum in West Virginia.

The defendant is quite a prominent citizen of Martin county and has enjoyed a good reputation heretofore, hence the unusual importance which attaches to the case.

New Bank in Catlettsburg.

The Controller of the Currency has authorized the Kentucky National Bank of Catlettsburg, Ky., to begin business, with a capital of $75,000. G. W. Gunnell is president; Charles Russell, vice president; Ernest Meek, cashier.

Prof. E. M. Kennison preached two good sermons Sunday to appreciative audiences at the M. E. Church South.

Several of our boys attended the protracted meeting at Twin Branch Tuesday night.

Enormous Gas Well.

Word reached the city today from Branchland that in boring for oil at that place one of the greatest gassers in the entire section of country had been brought in. The report stated that the well possessed a capacity of eleven million feet daily, and that was sufficient alone to supply the entire city of Cincinnati. Our informant did not know whether it was the property of the Dimick people or the Columbia company, but it is presumed that it belongs to the latter. Great excitement, it is said, has resulted from the strike and the operations in that section will no doubt be very active hereafter for a while. Branchland is a small town on the Guyan Valley branch of the C. & O. railroad about twenty miles south of Huntington, in Lincoln county.—Catlettsburg Tribune.

Small Attendance at School.

In Kentucky there are fewer number of children of the legal school age in the schools of the State than there are children outside the schools. The number of children who do not attend any school at all is larger than the number of children in school. This rather startling bit of information is given quite casually in some of the statistics which are being prepared for the annual report of Prof. J. G. Crabbe, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. This statement, showing that there are in average daily attendance in the schools of the State a total of 311,192 children, and the number of those not attending any school is 417,664, will be used during the coming session of the Legislature as an argument for better schools and school laws in Kentucky.

Johnson Seeks Parole.

Charles Johnson, who was indicted in the Lawrence Circuit Court for the murder of James Boggs, and who obtained a change of venue to Morgan county where he was tried and convicted, seeks to obtain a parole. The following is his petition:

To whom it may concern:

You are by this notified that the undersigned will make application to the parole board of the State of Kentucky at its regular meeting in December, 1909, for a parole of the imprisonment he is now serving in the Kentucky penitentiary for the killing of James Boggs, he having been convicted in the Morgan Circuit Court at the November term, 1908. Washington, Dec. 6.—As if only on yesterday the doors closed upon their activities, both houses of Congress adjourned noon took up the work of the so-called "long session," which may not adjourn until well into the summer. Although since the memorable inauguration day last March these same Senators and Representatives have already done five months' work in the extra session from March to August, which brought forth the new tariff act, the session begun today is technically the first of the Sixty-first Congress. The Senate was in session only thirteen minutes. The House session too, was brief and the work in both was of purely routine character. The net result was that the President was informed that both houses were ready for business and awaiting any message which he might see fit to send. His response will take the form of his first annual message, the reading of which will constitute the feature of tomorrow's business.

Washington, Nov. 29.—A report on the Bluegrass region of Kentucky has just been published by the United States Geological Survey as Water Supply Paper 233, which is the result of a survey by G. C. Matson, geologist, and of assays and analyses by Chase Palmer, chemist.

Mr. Matson sketches briefly the geology of the region, gives accounts of the surface and the underground waters, indicating the water horizons, and describes in detail the underground water conditions by counties. Mr. Palmer discusses the industrial uses of the water and gives tables showing the results of field assays. Sections on the medicinal and table waters should be of general interest, for the annual sales of mineral waters from the Bluegrass region now amount to $200,000. The report contains sections on the soils, on the collection and storage of rain water, on municipal water supplies, and on the comparative hardness of the waters and includes many chemical analyses. It is illustrated by a map of the region and by several diagrams. Supply Section Paper 233 can be obtained free by applying to the Director of the Survey at Washington.

Gov. John F. Shafroth, of Colorado, in a speech at New York before the Equal Franchise League, said woman suffrage has proved a success in Colorado and predicted that it would become universal in the United States.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Most prosperous of all years is the place to which 1909 is entitled in agriculture, declares the Secretary of Agriculture in his thirteenth annual report, made public today. The value of farm products is so incomprehensibly large that it has become merely a row of figures. For this year it is $8,760,000,000, a gain of $869,000,000 over 1908. The value of the products has nearly doubled in ten years.

The report says: "Eleven years of agriculture, beginning with a production of $4,417,000,000 and ending with $8,760,000,000! A sum of $70,000,000 for the period! It has paid off mortgages, it has established banks, it has made better homes, it has helped to make the farmer a citizen of the world, and it has provided him with means for improving his soil and making it more productive."

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 4.—The fifth annual meeting of the association of Kentucky colleges with about fifty educators present is in session at State University today. Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4.—Preliminary work on the preparation of a bill redistricting Kentucky into legislative and senatorial districts, was begun yesterday by the commission appointed for this purpose by the Governor. The commission, with Judge A. P. Humphrey, of Louisville, presiding, was in session all day and covered a good deal of ground. They considered the population of districts as well as area and the location of the counties with regard to other countries in the same district. The commission worked with maps, a census table, showing population, and also had a tentative plan for redistricting which had been prepared previously and was used merely for reference.

The commission will not have its report ready for some days, but probably will complete their work before the Legislature meets.

Carlisle, Ky., Dec. 4.—Reports continue to be heard in this city that the "wets" are preparing to circulate petitions asking for a submission of the question of whether the present local option laws in Carlisle and Nicholas county against the sale of liquor shall be continued for three years more. It has now been three years since the vote was last taken, when the city and county together gave a "dry" majority of 800. It is rumored that a vote will be asked for February, 1910.

This being a fifth-class city, the county unit applies. If the report proves to be correct, the hottest fight ever waged here is looked for, but it is safe to say the "drys" will have the best of it.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 4.—Almost on the eve of the meeting of the General Assembly the State faces a deficit in the Treasury of $601,258.51. The books of the State Treasurer shows that at the close of business November 30, there was in the State Treasury the sum of $336,837.37, divided in the following funds: Sinking fund, $167,670.26; school fund, $345,709.93; deficit in general expenditures fund, $176,507.42. There were outstanding warrants on that date, however, amounting to $938,131.88, which makes the deficit above given.

Women Who Are Envied.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face, form and temper are the envy of many, who might be like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion. United States Marshal Sharp and District Attorney Tinsley, of the Eastern Kentucky district, are in Washington to make a fight for re-appointment.

Harry L. Russell, a son of Mrs. S. W. Russell, of Stanton, Powell county, has been appointed by Representative Langley a page on the House floor.

Crowded galleries representing official and social life in Washington witnessed the commencement of the regular session of the Sixty-first Congress. The procedure followed on the first day was similar to that which has characterized every opening of Congress. A great mass of bills was introduced. The announcement of the recent deaths of Senator Johnson, of North Dakota, and of Representatives Lassiter, of Virginia, and De Armond, of Missouri, caused adjournments on both sides of the Capitol.

The President has delivered himself of his first message to Congress. It has surprised nobody. What he said, even what he might have said, has long ago been discounted by his actions and his speeches delivered while swinging around the country last fall. The President uses the usual platitudes about being at peace with the world, prosperity, being on the eve of a substantial business expansion, etc. His 17,000 words, or thereabouts, might have been saved. What Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich, the exponents of Trusts and Subsidies, do and say is far more weighty.

The first Republican who ever held the office of County Judge in Franklin county was sworn in last Monday. Gov. Wilson appointed D. Weissinger Lindsey as County Judge to fill out the unexpired term of James H. Polsgrove, who resigned to become Mayor of Frankfort, to which place he was elected at the last election. The term of Mr. Lindsey lasts until January 1, when the recently elected County Judge will be sworn in. This is a Democratic county and effort was made to have Gov. Wilson appoint a Democrat to succeed Judge Polsgrove, but he decided a Republican was entitled to it.

The Pleasing Gift.

is the one that carries with it the tastes and desires of the giver and at the same time is so perfect in detail and design as to conform to the standard of quality admired by the recipient. To choose well and wisely is no small task. When to buy, what to buy, and where to buy are the three great questions of the average Christmas shopper. We have a concrete and pleasing answer to each in our departments.

The TIME to buy is now while the assortment of choice merchandise is at its best for the Holiday Season; WHAT to buy is a matter of your own choice and we can only aid you with a long list of helpful suggestions found in all the departments of the store. WHERE to buy is where your money will secure what you want at the price you wish to pay—we are modest in saying that our store is the best place to make all your purchases, but we can say with all candor that it is an IDEAL SHOPPING PLACE for the holiday season and many more people each year make it Christmas shopping headquarters. We invite you to inspect the stock—the goods will tell the story.

REAPING BENEFIT.

From the Experience of Louisa People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Louisa residents on the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

G. W. Pack, of Louisa, Ky., says: "I was employed on the railroad for about five years and last May while doing some work in a stooped position, I was suddenly taken with a catch across the small of my back. It seemed just as if some one had thrust a knife into me. After that any work that required me to stoop made me miserable. Doan's kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and getting a supply. I began their use. The contents of one box completely removed my trouble and I am now in good health."

Mr. Pack gave the above statement in January, 1908, and on June 21, 1909, he said: "I have never had the least trouble from my back since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I always take pleasure in saying a good word for this remedy."

KENTUCKY NORMAL COLLEGE

Prospects Indicate Large Enrollment for Term Beginning in January.

The Kentucky Normal College at Louisa is enjoying a most prosperous session and the indications point to a great influx of students after the holidays. They are coming from all the surrounding counties and from several quite distant, in both West Virginia and Kentucky.

We have a great advantage this year over the past by having the new college building in use. There is plenty of room for all departments in this spacious building and the students are pleasantly situated.

The pretty weather last Sunday brought an unusually large crowd to

NEWS OF THE FARM.

Keep in Touch.

Do you keep in touch with the dairy experts and literature of the general government at Washington? This is a very important source of every dairy worker. A great deal of help can also be obtained from your local State experiment station, and also from the stations of other States. It would be a good thing to write to the leading ones for their bulletins on dairy work. They are sent out free of charge. In this way you get right at the source of both practical and scientific work. Try it and see how many good ideas you will pick up.

What to Do.

If the cow has chapped teats anoint them with vaseline.

If your cow has warts on her teats smear them thickly with pure olive oil after each milking.

If she has scabby teats smear them with vaseline in which there is enough carbolic acid to give a distinct odor.

If the milk ducts get blocked by clots of casein inject into the ducts boiled almond oil and extract the clots with a proper instrument.

Stones in the teats may be milked out when very small. When large they may be removed by a surgical operation after the cow has gone dry.

The milk duct may sometimes be closed by thickening of the mucous membrane. If only near the end of the teat an opening may be made with a penknife.

Calf Notes.

The calf must be fed right if you want to get the most out of it when grown up.

Teach the calf to drink its milk from the first day. It can never learn this art so easily afterward.

Whole milk may be fed to the calf until its mother's milk is fit to save. After that skim milk, fresh and warm from the separator, is all right.

It will not pay to feed a calf whole milk six or eight weeks and then sell it for veal. That costs more than it comes to.

Till the calf is one week old, it should be fed from three to five times a day. With its mother, it would naturally feed a little at a time and often.

Never feed cold milk to a calf. That will chill its stomach and injure the digestion, causing serious trouble, from which it is hard to recover.

The calf should have grass or hay to nibble at when three or four weeks old. Thus its hunger can be appeased and its feed given less often.

Dairy Breeding.

We may have touched upon this subject before, but it is something to be kept constantly in mind. The breeding up of the dairy herd requires constant attention.

It is not every dairyman who can buy pure-bred cows of high type. Often we must begin as we can and work up. The latter alternative is in the reach of all. It is given to all to improve their stock.

So buy the best cows you can with the means at hand. Then buy a good pure-bred bull as the best available means of rapid improvement. The more good ancestors your bull has behind him, especially on the mother's side, the better.

Do not change breeds. Lay your plans and stick to them. Every advance is so much gained. Keep weeding out poor cows. If you have a chance to buy better specimens in your line take them in, but never relax your hold on improvement by breeding.

Push your heifer calves from the start. They are the future hope of your herd. They must have plenty of feed and care. A stunted calf cannot make the best cow. Heredity must be backed up well by environment, or, in other words, by feeding.

The Cow's Milk.

Often something goes wrong with your cow's milk and you can't just tell what is the matter or what to do. The flow of her milk decreases greatly and possibly slacks up suddenly. There may be one or more of number of causes at work. Possibly feed is lacking either in quantity or quality. The trouble may be caused by disease. Whatever it is the cause should be removed as rapidly as possible. Rich nutritious food made into warm mashes may bring the cow out all right. Fennel seed or anise seed administered in ounce doses are also good. It likewise pays to strip and massage the udder carefully.

Sometimes your cow will give bloody milk. This may arise from a blow which bruises the udder. Or the udder may be congested or inflamed from other causes. Again richer and more abundant food may cause the milk to be bloody. Certain irritating plants will also give a red tinge to the milk. The same may occur when madder or logwood is eaten. Tubercles or tumors, or a hardening of the gland contribute to the same result. As a remedy bathing the bag with hot or cold water is good. If food is the cause change it. If plants irritate remove them.

Does your cow ever give watery milk? It is caused by a germ which may enter the milk from the outer ends of the milk ducts. Or the germ may get into the milk after it is drawn. If the germ is in the milk ducts, it may be destroyed by injecting hyposulphite of soda mixed, two drams to the pint of water.

Stringy milk is caused by fungi developing in the fluid. It comes from drinking impure water. Remove the cause and give two drams of bisulphite of soda every day.

Dairy Pointers.

Can you tell why anybody will milk a cow that never did pay and never will pay? If you can you can beat me, for I confess that such action appears to me a profound mystery.

Some breeds are better for milk and some are better for butter, but it is not all a matter of breed. Much depends upon the individual cow. There are good and bad cows in all breeds.

A good cow will bring a calf every year and she will not go dry unless you turn her dry. She will be even in the flow of her milk and an easy milker.

For the dairy you want not only cows that will give the greatest amount of milk and butter fat, but such as will do this at the least cost for feed and care.

The farm counts a good deal in successful dairying. It should be a good grass farm for the production of hay and pasture. It must also be adapted to grain and especially to the production of corn for the silo.

The successful dairyman must be not only a successful trader but also an intelligent breeder of cattle. Often the best cows can be obtained only by breeding. They are not for sale.

How would you like to have an income of $15 a day, Sundays included? That would be nearly $5,500 a year. A forty-cow dairy, properly managed, will give it.

In Bad Fix

"I had a mishap at the age of 41, which left me in bad fix," writes Mrs. Georgia Usher, of Conyers, Ga.

"I was unconscious for three days, and after that I would have fainting spells, dizziness, nervousness, sick headache, heart palpitation and many strange feelings."

"I suffered greatly with ailments due to the change of life and had 3 doctors, but they did no good, so I concluded to try Cardui."

"Since taking Cardui, I am so much better and can do all my housework."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Do not allow yourself to get into a bad fix. You might get in so bad you would find it hard to get out.

Better take Cardui while there is time, while you are still in moderately good health, just to conserve your strength and keep you in tip top condition.

In this way your troubles, whatever they are, will gradually grow smaller instead of larger—you will be on the up-grade instead of the down—and by and bye you will arrive at the north pole of perfect health.

WEST VIRGINIA NEIGHBORS.

The second well drilled on the John Doss farm, on the head of Beech Fork, Wayne county, was drilled through the gas sand the first of last week. It proved a gasser of good volume.

Gov. Glasscock has commuted the death sentence of Isaac Yates, of McDowell county, to twenty years in the penitentiary. Yates' crime was one of the most revolting possible, that of criminal assault on his own daughter. It would seem that if the death penalty is ever worth while, here was a case worthy of its employ. Governor Glasscock is said to oppose capital punishment. The ground on which Yates escaped the noose was that he is not mentally responsible. The action of the governor in this case will doubtless greatly encourage Columbus Belcher, Guyandotte to Celebrate.

It is announced that the ancient town of Guyandotte is to have a centennial celebration and homecoming jubilee some time in the near future, the exact date not yet having been agreed upon by the committees having the preliminary affairs in hand.

The town is past an hundred years old and has a history fraught with considerable interest.

For many years it was the most important town in the old state of Virginia, west of the Alleghany, except Wheeling and Charleston, being a close rival to the latter city and was at one time making more progress than the present state capital.

For a short time the town was the county seat of Cabell county.

This was when the county was first organized. After the suspension bridge was built across the Guyandotte river the town became a station on the old James river and Kanawha turnpike, which fact added greatly to its importance.

The town suffered greatly during the Civil War, almost one half of the buildings having been burned, including the flouring mill plant, the chief industry there, and most of the finer residences. Following soon after the war came the founding of Huntington and the building of the C. & O. railroad, whose depot was established on the west side of the Guyan river, because of some misunderstanding between the railroad people and the town authorities, all of which impeded the growth of the town so that until very recently it was no more important than it was half a century ago. Lately, however, since a fine bridge was built and there is now a street car line and other modern improvements the place is beginning to manifest evidences of growth. At best, however, it will always be a suburb of Huntington, and at the same time may become a part of it.

Smokeless

Until science discovered a way to construct the Automatic Smokeless Device, and make it completely dependable, all oil heaters had one common great fault—smoke.

With the advent of the Automatic Smokeless Device, and its practical application to the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

the smoke problem was successfully solved.

The Perfection Oil Heater is the only heater equipped with this which insures a steady, full-glowing heat, with the wick turned up as high as it will go, without a shred of smoke. Reverse the motion, turn the wick down—there's no odor.

The smokeless device automatically locks and prevents the upward movement of the wick beyond the proper exposure. That is the secret. This splendid result gives leadership to the Perfection.

You may now have all the heat you want—when you want it—and where you want it—without the annoyance of smoke or odor.

Brass font holds 4 quarts of oil, which permits a glowing heat for 9 hours.

Brass wick tube—damper top—cool handle. Cleaned in a minute.

The Perfection is beautifully finished in Nickel or Japan.

Home.

Home! What a hallowed name; how full of enchantment and how dear to every heart. How it touches every fiber of the soul and strikes every chord of the human heart with its angelic fingers. Nothing but death can break the spell. What tender associates are linked with home. What pleasing images and deep emotions it awakens. It calls upon the fondest memories of life, and opens in our nature the purest, deepest, richest, gush of consecrated thought and feeling. Home, home, there is no place like home. Home of our childhood. How affection clings and hovers round thee with her seraph wings.

"Be Ye Not Unequally Yoked."

No matter how refined a woman is, if she marries a coarse, immoral man, she will be likely to have a coarse, immoral man for her husband. In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred, a vulgar horse jockey will remain a vulgar horse jockey still, in spite of the possession of a refined, intelligent wife. With that possession his reverent admiration for her superiority has departed. She is now simply the woman who has joined her lot with his, and must take him and his circumstances for what they are. He will have no patience with fine ladyism, or her distaste for coarse thoughts and actions. She must come down to his level and stay there. She must bear his children, and cook, wash, iron and mend in the homely house that is all he is able to provide for her, just the same as if she had never been his social superior. Should she rebel and leave him, her future is blasted, and though she may be strong enough to rise out of her misery, she can never efface the results of her folly. But the probabilities are that she will drag out her dreary days in surroundings utterly repugnant to every fiber of her nature, because she will not be allowed to take her children—which are his also—and she cannot leave them behind her. The romance of this kind of clandestine marriage is very soon dispelled, and only hard, bitter facts remain.

What a Plant Did.

A little plant was given to a sick girl. In trying to take care of it the family made changes in their living. First, they cleaned the window, that more light might come to its leaves; then when not to cold, they would open the window that fresh air might help the plant to grow. Next the clean window made the room so tidy that they used to wash the floors and walls and arrange the furniture more neatly. This led the father of the family to mend a broken chair or two, which kept him home several evenings. After the work was done he staid at home instead of spending his leisure hours at the tavern, and the money thus saved went to buy comforts for them all. Thus the little plant brought a real as well as a physical blessing.

Where Is My Boy Tonight?

In how many homes is that question unsolved, and what sorrowful countenances and sad hearts are pondering over it. Now, reader, it is not your home referred to by us; it is only that home where "my boy is not home tonight," and while we can almost surmise of his whereabouts, yet we dare not lest it might prove true. One thing we know, he is not at home. Another thing is true; in this world evil influences lurk on every hand, and his young, frank, noble heart is susceptible of being influenced. Why is he not here tonight? When did his feet first learn to wander away from the safe and sacred influences of home? Was it not when you had the power and influence to lead him in the path of virtue and right? Did you hope some how or other, though a tremor ran through your soul when you first saw him turn from home to the world with its unhallowed influences, that he would soon return? Delusive hope. How stand the records? Look at the wandering sons today, with manhood all gone, hearts hardened and blackened by sin, and the aching hearts in desolate homes, because the wanderer is a wanderer still. Then rest thou not for a moment, but walk thyself in virtue's path, and lead thy boy where such a character will be formed and fixed that no evil influence may lure him from the path of rectitude and right, and you need not be inquiring, "Where is my boy tonight?"

Influence.

Influence, like a pebble dropped into the water, will ever circle and widen until it is lost in the vast ocean of eternity. In our own home, where we spend the best part of our lives, how far reaching, how unending is our influence. Here is no neutral ground, for within its holy precincts we wear no disguise. We are our own selves around the fireside when at home. How sad that we should exercise self control while a stranger is present and in the presence of our loved ones often give way to ill temper, and by our own unkind words wound the loving hearts around us.

Don't Scold.

For the sake of your children, don't do it. It is a great misfortune to have children reared in the presence and under the influence of a scold. The effect of the everlasting complaining and fault-finding of such persons is to make the young who hear it unamiable, malicious, callous-hearted, and they often learn to take pleasure in doing the very things for which they receive such tongue-lashings. As they are always getting the blame of wrong-doing, whether they deserve it or not, they think they might as well do wrong as right. They lose all ambition to strive for the favorable opinion of the fault-finder, since they see they always strive in vain. Thus a scold is not only a nuisance, but a destroyer of the morals of children. If these unloved, dreaded people could only see themselves as others see them, they would flee to the mountains in very shame.

Enemies.

Go straight on and don't mind them. If they get in your way walk around regardless of their spite. A man who has no enemies is seldom good for anything; he is made of that kind of material which is so easily worked that every one has a hand in it. A sterling character is one who thinks for himself, and speaks what he thinks; he is always sure to have enemies. They are as necessary to him as fresh air; they keep him alive and active. Live down prejudice by right doing. If you stop to dispute, you do but as they desire, and open the way for more abuse. Let the poor fellows talk there will be a reaction if you but perform your duty, and the sparks, which if you do not blow will go out of themselves, and those once alienated will flock to you and acknowledge their error.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

The Consolidated Coal Company has purchased a big locomotive for use in pulling coal cars from the mines to the C. & O. main line at the mouth of Millers Creek.

Just as we are going to press this evening we get the sad intelligence that while out hunting near town, Attorney Henry L. Woods is shot at some birds shot his son, Frank, aged twelve, in the head and face, nine shot taking effect, one striking just above one eye. While the result is not expected to prove fatal, it is very painful. Frank is the boy who fell off a cliff last summer, from the effects of which his life hung in the balance for days.—Olive Hill Times.

A special from Owingsville says: Hunters within the last few days have killed one fine colt, shot and seriously injured a good mare and filled the faces of two young men with birdshot. Archie Jackson, ten-year-old son of James W. Jackson, of Catlettsburg, was seriously wounded. He was visiting his grandfather, George Jackson, south of town, and had been presented with a 22-caliber rifle. While out hunting Saturday afternoon he crawled through a wire fence and was pulled by his gun after him when it was discharged, the ball striking the boy in the right side, and going entirely through, came out by the vertebrae on the left side. Examination showed the wound to be not necessarily fatal, the bullet striking a rib, which prevented it from reaching a vital place.

Huntington, W. Va., Dec. 4.—T. J. Williamson, a prominent citizen of Pikeville, Ky., was in town yesterday and reports quite a spirited election contest for all the offices in Pike county will be conducted in the courts of Kentucky growing out of a number of reported election frauds claimed to have been perpetrated in that county at the recent election. Democrats, Republicans and Independents are said to be indiscriminately mixed up in the election results and the outcome will be very hard to anticipate in the courts. Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

The people who have denominated themselves as the "Citizens" party at Kenova, have held a convention to nominate officers for that town and have named the following ticket: For Mayor, Charles Davidson; Recorder, Haven Kirk; Councilmen, Dr. J. I. Miller, W. M. Galloway, F. E. Way, T. H. Baldridge and B. F. Adams.

On last Tuesday the west wall of one of the large buildings of the Independent Steel Company's plant at Kenova was blown down by the high winds which prevailed during the day, entailing a great loss to the company. A few days ago the same wall collapsed because of its foundation having been weakened in excavating for the plumbing work and it had barely been repaired when this second disaster occurred. The entire wall gave way in the face of the severe storm, while the workmen at the plant were at their dinner, hence there was no loss of life, as might have been had the men been at work when it occurred. It will require a considerable sum to rebuild the wall which is several hundred feet in length.

Pikeville, Ky., Dec. 6.—Near Fish Trap, a few miles above here, a fearful accident occurred Saturday. John Anderson, a prominent farmer, placed his 8-year-old son astride a horse that had just been taken out of the plow and which was still in harness, and started him to the store of John Justice, at Fish Trap, a mile or two away, on an errand. The horse became frightened and started to run; the jingling of the harness, as it slapped his side, added to the terror of the horse and increased his speed. The little rider was thrown from the horse, and his feet becoming entangled in the gearings, he was dragged a distance of a mile and a half by the maddened animal, with his head on the ground and when the horse was stopped by a neighbor the little fellow's head was a pulp, his brains having been scattered for the distance of a mile. The affair was a most horrible one and is deeply deplored by everyone.
